3. REFLECTION AND CONCLUSION

- Group reflection write-up, aligned with the Conclusion / Reflection section created in the website.

  Group Reflection :

  Throughout this project, our group learned how to plan and develop a multi-page website using proper structure and consistent design. We improved our understanding of semantic HTML (header, main, footer) and how to apply Bootstrap components such as navigation bars, cards, tables, and responsive grid layouts. We also learned that good layout planning is important to make content clear and user-friendly.
  In terms of teamwork, we divided tasks based on strengths (content writing, layout design, coding, and testing). We practiced communication and coordination to ensure all pages used the same theme, navigation links worked correctly, and the design remained consistent. During development, we faced challenges such as alignment issues, responsiveness on different screen sizes, and ensuring components followed the rubric requirements. However, we solved these by testing regularly and making improvements based on feedback.

  Conclusion :

  In conclusion, this project successfully produced a structured and responsive UPROP website with interconnected pages and consistent layout. The final website meets the required guidelines by applying Bootstrap framework, responsive navigation, and suitable components for presenting information clearly. Overall, this project strengthened our web development skills and improved our ability to collaborate effectively in completing a practical web design task.
